Palmer and McCormick

Democrats of Pennsylvania are gratified with the decision of Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer to be a candidate for United States Senator instead of Governor. He is a leader in national affairs and his logical place is at Washington, where he can be more useful to the State and Nation than if he were withdrawn for service at Harrisburg.

Vance C. McCormick is possessed of many elements of strength and will make an ideal candidate for Governor. His record as a Democrat is irreproachable and his service to the party has been faithful and aggressive. With candidates combining the traits of Palmer and McCormick the Democrats of Pennsylvania can be depended on to do their best work, which, in the opinion of the Post, will result in their nomination and election.—Pittsburgh Post.

Alexander Martin

Alexander Martin, about 65 years old, who was stricken by paralysis while confined in the county jail in Cumberland, died last Saturday afternoon at the Western Maryland Hospital in that city. His home is on Clear Ridge, and he was arrested on a charge of theft.

MRS. MARY HARRIS ARMOR

Lectures to a Large Audience in Assembly Hall.

The lecture delivered in Assembly Hall Thursday evening, February 5, by Mrs. Mary Harris Armor of Georgia was one of the most powerful ever delivered from a Bedford platform. Taking as her subject: "A Saloonless Nation in 1920 and Why?" Mrs. Armor discussed the great present day issue—"National Constitutional Prohibition"—from every possible viewpoint, proving herself a real "evangel of the new crusade."

By way of introduction the speaker declared the abolition of the liquor traffic in harmony with the Divine will and supported her statement by appropriate scriptural quotations and her belief that one of the ways in which God is fulfilling his promise to destroy that which "brings forth evil fruit" is through His eternal truth in science.

From the standpoint of the brain as the center of power, judgment and reason, the lowering of its standard of morals in the individual state and nation, personal liberty, the liquor traffic as opposed to common sense, as in the license system fallacy and property-right claim on plea of confiscation, Mrs. Armor produced unanswerable arguments favoring the prohibition of the liquor traffic, which is the destroyer of life, property and the nation bowing to its dictation.

There was a moment of inspiration most marked as the speaker referred to the lesson taught the South during the slavery agitation when their plea was that of financial loss to be sustained. Acknowledging their wrong position, Mrs. Armor made practical the lesson as applied to present conditions in the North under King Alcohol's domination, happily suggesting the great privilege granted the South of taking the initiative in Congress looking toward a National amendment to the Constitution.

Aside from her logical reasoning Mrs. Armor is given to pleasing anecdote and kept the large audience in rapt attention from start to finish. One press comment truly states it: "She does not angrily rail at those who are connected with the liquor traffic nor abuse them. She does not pose for effect. But she is entirely sincere while dealing a hammer-blow of truth substantiated by facts and statistics."

A short invocation by Rev. J. A. Eyer and the hearty singing of "A Saloonless Nation in 1920" under direction of Professor Diehl with orchestra accompaniment were the opening program numbers.

A voluntary offering was taken at the close of the lecture amounting to $43.89. The consensus of opinion is: "The County W. C. T. U. made no mistake in bringing Mrs. Armor to Bedford for the good that she has done in making prohibition sentiment."

Local Suffrage Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Suffrage Party was held in the Loyal Legion Room, in the Brode Building, Friday afternoon, February 6, at 3 o'clock. The number of members present and the enthusiasm manifested spoke well for the organization. Pennsylvania has been apportioned $50,000 for the suffrage campaign during the next eighteen months; Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to raise one-half of the amount, or $25,000, Bedford County's share being $500, which sum, however, is not obligatory. Ways and means were discussed for raising this amount but nothing definite was decided upon. Mrs. J. C. Smith, local president, appointed the following ladies to act as chairmen on the different committees. They are: Enrollment Committee, Mrs. Walter Enfield; Literature, Miss Margaretta Blackburn; Propaganda, Miss Nora Blackburn; Finance, Mrs. David Lee.

The lecture given in the Court House on January 31st by Mrs. Frank Roessing, State President of the Woman's Suffrage Party, was a treat to all who attended. Mrs. Roessing understands how to present her subject and if no conversions were made that night it was due to the fact that her audience was of one mind, that women should have the right of franchise.

Parent-Teacher Meeting

The second monthly meeting of the local Parent-Teacher Association was held in the High School Room Tuesday evening and the attendance was good. About ten new members were received, making a total of 40. A very interesting program was presented, consisting of papers on "How the Parents Can Best Help Their Children's Teachers," by Mrs. G. W. Faus and Miss Nell Miller; "Good Manners," by Miss Mary Donahoe and Mrs. William Brice, Jr.; "The Anti-Cigarette Law" was read by Rev. J. A. Eyer and Prof. O. N. Shaffer. Four films were shown by the Kinescope and much enjoyed by the children of Edison, a machine, an invention of Edison, was purchased by the children and teachers of the public schools at a cost of about $150. It will be used for educational purposes in the schools and it is a movement that is receiving the commendation of the parents.

Three brothers and six sisters are also living: John, Arthur, Roy, Hattie, Annie, Alva, Alma, Edna and Mrs. Thomas Brown. She was a daughter of the late Col. F. D. Beagle of St. Clairsville. One son, Edgar F. Over, of Bedford, two sisters, Misses Bella and Katharine, and one brother, William F. Beagle, of Altoona survive.

The funeral services were held at the Beagle residence, Altoona, on Wednesday, and interment was made in the Oak Ridge Cemetery.

Mrs. Hettie Flake, widow of the late George Flake, died at her home in Huntingdon Saturday evening. She was a daughter of the late Daniel Heltzell and was born in Bedford August 19, 1843. Three daughters and one son survive. Interment was made in the Riverview Cemetery, Huntingdon, on Tuesday.

Chatham Concert Company

The entertainment given last evening in Trinity M. E. Church by the Chatham Concert Company, was most delightful throughout the entire program, and the large audience evidenced its hearty approval.

Miss Marguerite Gilliam, the pianist, rendered a difficult program in a forceful and brilliant way.

Miss Adelaide Rynders played on her violin with feeling and rare skill and the tones had that beautiful singing quality that charms the hearer.

Miss Lilla Cooper sang with ease and assurance, and her enunciation is to be commended.

Miss Myretta Chatham gripped the audience in her first selection, "The Pettison Twins," and her subsequent readings were equally as well accomplished.

The audience was one of the largest ever present at a similar entertainment in this city.—From the Philadelphia Daily Journal, Philadelphia, Pa., January 31, 1914.

The Chatham Concert Company will give an entertainment in Assembly Hall Friday evening, February 20, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. John's Reformed Church.

From an Outside Observer

Penrose, Pinchot and Palmer will be the candidates for United States Senate in Pennsylvania this fall. Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, whose extraordinary services in behalf of good government and of the Democratic party, are about as well known and appreciated in Maryland as they are in his own State, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination yesterday, and it is said that he will have no opposition in the primaries. President Wilson and former President Roosevelt are both expected to take part in the general election campaign, and so there is a lively prospect of a spectacular fight.

It unquestionably required a good deal of political courage for Mr. Palmer to take this step. Pennsylvania is normally Republican by several hundred thousand majority, or it has been so. It is filled with manufacturing interests that think they have been benefited by a protective tariff and would like a return of it. Penrose will doubtless try to make the tariff the issue, and he will doubtless have no lack of funds.

He will hardly be able to make an impression with that issue as against his own unfitness, however. The protectionists in 1912 prophesied so much that they will be hard pressed to explain why all Pennsylvania is not bankrupt now that the lower tariff has been many months in effect. If, on the other hand, either Penrose or Pinchot should attempt to make Wilson's administration in general the issue, then Palmer could ask nothing better.

Here's luck to him, anyhow!—Baltimore, Md., Sun.

DON'T GROW BALD

Use Parisian Sage
If your hair is getting thin, losing its natural color, or has that matted, lifeless and scraggy appearance, the reason is evident—dandruff and failure to keep the hair roots properly nourished.

Parisian Sage applied daily for a week and then occasionally is all that is needed. It removes dandruff with one application; almost immediately stops falling hair and itching head; invigorates the scalp and makes dull, stringy hair soft, abundant and radiant with life. Equally good for men, women or children—everyone needs it.

A large bottle of this delightful hair tonic can be had from F. W. Jordan, Jr., or any drug counter for 50 cents. You will surely like Parisian Sage. There is no other "Just-as-good"—Try it now.—Adv. Feb. 13-2t

The Bishop and the Militants
The English militant suffragettes will "just be simply furious" with the Bishop of London because he investigated for himself their report of the horrors which the imprisoned suffragettes experienced, and found that one particular militant at all events was treated a rather nice time in jail.

The Bishop will be looked upon as a regenerate by his militant admirers, since for some time he has been expressing an almost tearful belief in the significance of their cause. So now to have him accuse them of exaggeration and an overdose of imagination is a little too much. The lesson, however, should prove a salutary one, and if more people investigated at first hand the reports of how Mrs. Pankhurst and other events abused by the British authorities, she would hardly be the heroine she pretends to be.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Australia Still Unexplored.
It is curious to realize that vast parts of the British empire have never been seen by British eyes or the eyes of any white man. Nearly a quarter of Australia is still unexplored, mainly in the west, where the population averages only one person in every twenty miles.

HECKERMAN LETTER

A Great Wave of Religion Spreading Over the Land.

Sunbury, Pa., February 9.—I have just returned from a meeting in the tabernacle. Rev. Stough and his assistants have been here for five weeks and have turned Sunbury upside down, the right side coming to the top on each and every turn. 'Twas estimated that there were over 5,000 people there this evening. There was no text, but a general hammering at "boozee" and the results of it in every walk of life. He showed that firemen working a few weeks ago at the City Hotel here, when it was on fire, were drunk.

The revival has proven a loss to the hotel men of about four thousand dollars a week and for four weeks twenty thousand dollars. This same man conducted a series of meetings at Berwick, which is a few miles up the river, with such telling effect that each of the machine shops posted notices that they would discharge each and every one of their employees caught going into the saloon, either going to or from work. One of the car shops up there employs over three thousand men. Well, five weeks ago the crusade against booze ended up there and last Monday their several banks made a statement that they now had in their banks $80,000 more on deposit than ever before and that the most of this came from the men who never had a cent in the banks, and the large saloon store told the writer that during this time their business had increased considerably. I verily believe that there is a great wave of religion spreading over the land and I would not be surprised if in an incredibly short time the Keystone State would be on the dry side of the road.

In my last letter I spoke of the various positions that ladies could fill and prove themselves most capable. Many of these women, who are working under special contracts, whether at home, out of doors, in an office, often become nervous and exhausted, failing to realize that this condition is often merely the call for nature for some fuel in the form of a drink of some kind and I would state that what one needs at such a time is not a strong cup of coffee or tea that merely stimulates you for a short period and does not feed the nervous tissues. Those who have suffered from a nervous breakdown are better able to realize the importance of stopping in the midst of their work and refreshing the inner woman, with some refreshing drink, such as good buttermilk or a cup of mutton broth, which, when taken, hot, will often prove very effective in relieving fatigue. Some claim that the system often needs and craves acid drinks. I believe that these are much more effective for relieving this tired condition if prepared hot.

If people in general, especially brain workers, would try drinking some hot, nutritious drink before retiring they would obtain better sleep. While this remedy is good for men, it is especially so for women.

Once when in New Orleans I had a spell in which I could not sleep. There was a lady physician boarding where I was and one evening I went into her office to consult her about my condition. I stated my case and she, after asking me a number of questions, said: "I do not think your case at all serious and will give you a verbal prescription, which, if followed rigidly, will soon give you relief. 'Very well, let me have it.' 'Drink a cup of hot milk before retiring at night. Throw business to the dogs after 6 o'clock and think of me.' If many others will do the same, they would be greatly benefited."

Now a word about the weather and I shall close. Since writing you last week I have been quite busy. The weather has not been cold but we had a day's rain and one of snow. The snow was not so deep but it made "mity" bad and slippery walking.

Please send me a paper to Capital Hotel, Johnstown, Pa.

Yours truly,
M. P. Heckerman.

Farmers' Co-operative Buying
One of the most pressing agricultural problems of the day is to find some simple, safe and efficient method of co-operative buying of the supplies needed for the farm orchard and dairy.

The Farmers' Exchange of Schellsburg, Pa., has been in successful operation for two years. It was organized for service and not for profit nor to furnish anyone with a comfortable position or income. It offers its service to anyone, or to any group of men, no matter where they may be located.

The conditions which brought about this organization are described as follows:

"The buying of inferior seed, feed, fertilizer and other farm supplies has been a limiting factor in production.

The farmer, wholly unorganized, or so organized that he is still a prey to unscrupulous business houses and a victim of his own carelessness and lack of foresight, requires some organization which will buy for him, at reasonable prices, materials which will do the work as he plans it to be done. The Exchange was organized to meet this pressing need."

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Bedford Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak. Backache and other kidney ills may follow.

Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Bedford people endorse their worth.

Miss Molhe Spidell, 172 Spring St., Bedford, Pa., says: "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and suffered greatly from backaches and rheumatic pains in my arms and limbs. I had headaches and dizzy spells. I tried many remedies, but found no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Dull's Drug Store. They did me a world of good. They relieved me of the backache and rheumatic pains, the headaches and dizzy spells left and I was greatly benefited in every way. I have not had any symptoms of the trouble since. You may continue to use my former recommendation of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Spidell had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. Feb. 13 2t. Advertisement.

$1 a year. Any local organization already in existence may join for this $1 fee and receive full service, or local organizations may be formed for this purpose and join for a single annual dues. We encourage such local co-operation.

The Exchange handles no money; the member must deposit his money in his home bank to pay for what he buys. No member can possibly become liable for anything except his own orders.

The Exchange buys at wholesale, on guaranty of the dealer, and charges (as a fee which goes to its Secretary) a one per cent. (1%) commission.

There is no stock, no book-keeping, no dividends nor tallies to a transaction. Each purchase stands by itself, is paid for on the one per cent. basis and then ends for all time.

You can find out all about this plan, how it works, what forms are used, etc., by writing to Rural Organization Service, Washington, D. C., and asking them to send you matter descriptive of the Farmers' Exchange. Then take the papers to your banker, if you do not understand them, and he will make the plan clear and tell you what he thinks of it. Farmers' Exchange.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.—Adv. Feb. 6-4t.

NERVOUS PEOPLE

are usually thin and easily worried, sleep does not refresh and the system gradually weakens from insufficient nourishment.

Scott's Emulsion corrects nervousness by its force of concentrated medical nourishment—it restores the healthy action of body cells, enriches the blood, sharpens the appetite, and feeds the nerve centres by distributing energy and power all over the body.

Don't resort to alcoholic mixtures or drug concoctions that stimulate and stupefy.

Get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion for your nerves—nothing equals or compares with it, but insist on Scott's.

DEMOCRATS KEEP PROMISES

The collapse of the Republican party in the nation began with the recognition of its failure to live up to platform promises. It was this fact, coupled with the conviction in the minds of the people, that the party was tied to special interests, and was serving them, that led to the famous insurgent movement which has now wrecked the one grand old party.

It is well to bear in mind in considering the claims of other parties to the support of the voters. For their benefit we call attention to the record made on these two lines by the Democratic Party which will seek an opportunity to carry out the much-needed work of reforming the Pennsylvania State Government.

The Democratic national platform of 1912 declare for drastic tariff reduction in the direction of a revenue tariff made in such a way as not to disturb a legitimate industry. That promise has been carried out to the letter. The Democratic platform declared for a reduction in the high cost of living through tariff reduction and the loosening of the grip of predatory trusts. A change is already being felt because of the tariff reduction, and with the enactment of the trust legislation and its vigorous enforcement, still further reductions in the cost of living are bound to follow. This platform promise is rapidly being redeemed.

The platform declared that private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable, declared for a definition of restraint of trade, for the enforcement of the anti-trust laws, for a recognition of the principle of personal guilt, and for such other measures as would make private monopoly impossible and would open the channels of legitimate business to free and fair development. The administration in Congress is now at work carrying into effect these specific promises.

The Democratic platform declared for the full exercise of both Federal and State authority, for the protection of the people from injustice, and for the conservation of both material and human resources. This pledge is already in process of enactment in such matters as trust control, the Alaskan Railway Bill, the withdrawal of radium lands, and vigorous enforcement of other policies in the direction of conservation linked with the development of natural resources.

That platform declared for an Income Tax and for the direct election of Senators, both of which have been carried into effect through the activity of the Democratic Congress and Democratic propaganda in the States.

That platform declared for the publicity of campaign contributions and for the publicity of endorsement for Presidential, Judicial appointments, both of which have been already enacted into law or are now contemplated in bills pending.

That platform declared in favor of Presidential preference primaries and committed the party to the selection of National Committeemen at the primaries, with the power to act immediately after their election. This recommendation has been brought to the attention of Congress and will be enacted in a form acceptable to all parties and to the people.

That platform declared for a reform in banking and currency laws and against the establishment of a central bank. This pledge has been carried into effect, and the welcome which it received and the success which it has achieved demonstrates not only its fairness but its utility.

That platform declared for a system of rural credits. The measures carrying it to effect this reform are now pending in Congress, and will be enacted before the close of the present session.

That platform declared in favor of a systematic and economical development of the water-ways of the country, and the party has already shown its good faith by proposing estimates for this work which are less factional, less sectional and more far reaching than any yet seriously suggested by any party in Congress.

That platform declared for economy in the public service. This pledge is being carried out in every department of the government, substantial instances being the recent success of the Navy Department in securing notable reductions in the cost of supplies, armor and all battle-ships by breaking up selfish monopolies in requiring genuine competition.

That platform declared for the efficient supervision and the regulation of public utilities engaged in interstate commerce and the prevention of control by railroads of business which brings them into competition with their shippers or patrons, a step in this direction has already been taken in the recommendations now pending for the control of security issues, while other parts of the anti-trust program will fully cover the other proposals.

That platform declared for a full protection and recognition of the rights of labor, and it need only be said that no administration in a generation has so fully lived up to its promise. The establishment of a Department of Labor, with a genuine representative of the laboring classes at its head, the activity of that Department in investigating complaints and controversies involving labor, the enactment of shorter hour legislation, and the proposal in the Palmer Bill of restrictions upon child labor are but a few evidences of the genuine sympathy of the party and its leaders for the just demands of the laboring masses.

That platform declared for a real conservation and development of the natural resources of the country. The appointment of one of the leading conservationists of America at the head of the Department having control of these matters was only an earnest effort of the policy of the whole administration, and its attitude toward the development of Alaskan resources and the protection of those resources against selfish exploitation add any necessary evidence of its sincerity.

That platform declared for the immediate declaration of the policy of ultimate independence for the Philippine Islands. That pledge has already been enacted by executive order and is already showing its fruits in the increased confidence and loyalty of the Philippines themselves and the general acceptance by the American people.

That platform declared for a genuine rule of the people and no demonstration in history has so advanced this cause in so short a space of time. That platform declared for a strong effort to promote the safety of the workers in the mines. In the increased activity of the Bureau of Mines and the establishment of a Bureau of Safety within that bureau will recognize the sincere fulfillment of this pledge.

That platform declared for the laws insuring the security of life and property at sea, and the passage of a seaman's bill for participation of the government in an international congress indicate to what extent this pledge is being kept.

That platform declared for an extension of the parcel post and rural free delivery, and events speak for themselves on this subject.

That platform declared for the encouragement and development of agriculture and the improvement of the conditions of rural life in agricultural trade, and efforts are already being made in this direction, surpassing anything attempted up to this time.

That platform pledged national aid to state and local authorities in the maintenance of post roads, and such aid has already been extended. It is only because of the deliberate refusal of the Pennsylvania Republican machine to co-operate that this State is not now enjoying a large measure of aid from the National Government in the construction of good highways on mail routes.

In the light of these facts the concluding paragraph of that platform reads like a prophecy when it says: "Our platform is one of principles which we believe to be essential to our National welfare. Our pledges are made to be kept when in office as well as relied upon during the campaign, and we invite the co-operation of all citizens regardless of party, who believe in maintaining unimpaired the institutions and traditions of our country."

HARRISBURG LETTER

Reports Indicate An Increasing Confidence Amongst Democrats.

Harrisburg, February 9.—All reports received at Democratic State headquarters from various parts of the State indicate an increasing confidence amongst Democratic workers that Pennsylvania will take its place among the Democratic Commonwealths at the next November election. The reports also indicate that the party organization in the various counties, taking inspiration from the State organization, are engaged in greater activity, considering the early stage of the campaign, than in years. The reports in general show a decided belief on the part of the local workers that the maintenance of the present State organization is essential to any successful fight in the coming State-wide campaign, the chief being founded upon the respect which the present organization commands for its absolute honesty of purpose and its refusal to make any kind of bargain or alliance with the old Penrose Machine or its allies.

The following are brief extracts from letters received from men prominent in the county organizations in various parts of the State:

Chester County.—Chester County, well known as the "Gibraltar of Republicanism," was carried by the Democrats in 1912 for the first time in the Presidential contest in more than sixty years. In every precinct party workers are already responding earnestly to the call for renewed activity. The Jackson Banquet in West Chester last month brought together hundreds of representative Democrats from over the county and resulted in increased enthusiasm. The people of Chester County, regardless of party, have been impressed by the Wilson administration and are ready to stand for the representatives of that administration in Pennsylvania.

Monroe County.—Monroe County, which, in its 4,500 voters, numbers 3,300 stalwart, dyed-in-the-wool Jeffersonian Democrats, was never in such splendid condition from a Democratic point of view. County Chairman B. H. Levering, in speaking of the prospects, says: "Never in the history of the party in this county has there been greater promise of polling a record Democratic vote. This is true mainly on account of the unvarying confidence which President Wilson and the present administration has engendered in the ranks of all parties. Local Republicans are openly expressing their warm approval of the healthy condition of political and business affairs in the Nation; and many young men who cast their first votes for Republican candidates will this year be found voting the Democratic ticket straight. The county is thoroughly organized and may be considered, in truth, an impregnable Democratic fortress."

Warren County.—Every one in this neck of the woods is pleased with the Wilson administration, especially because it has refused to deal with the recognized old guard—Penrose annex. The county organization is in splendid shape and we look for the election at the primaries of committeemen fully in accord with the present State organization and committed to the progressive Democratic program.

Huntingdon County.—"All reports indicate the polling of an exceedingly large Democratic vote in this county at the coming November election due, in large measure, to the splendid team work at the National Capitol which has been about legislation long desired by the people. Congressman Dersham, who has proved a splendid public servant, receives splendid endorsement, while the aggressive work done by the new Democratic State organization is putting new vigor into the workers and voters, and will show fine results in 1914. Huntingdon County Democrats are of the opinion that the Democratic candidate for Governor should be chosen from outside of Pittsburgh or Philadelphia."

Bucks County.—"Bucks County Democrats are progressive by a large majority, in sympathy with the present State organization, and will choose men at the primaries who can hold their own in the Legislature. The Wilson administration has received universal commendation for its splendid work in the interests of the people and of the party, and the public regardless of party, will certainly give it endorsement at the polls."

Philadelphia County.—"There is a distinct revival of Democratic sentiment and activity in this rock-ribbed Republican city, and unless all signs fail the Democratic vote cast on May 19th will far exceed the vote of any primary election in years, while the friends of the State organization are active and united to make a decided advance toward cleaning out the bipartisan control of the Democratic organization in this city. The close three-cornered fight here in 1912

NEVER KNEW THERE WERE SO MANY SICK

Little did we think that at the National Hotel, in Bedford, there were a number of sick awaiting our arrival on last Saturday morning to take advantage of our treatments.

We wish to thank all our new acquaintances for the kindness shown us while we were in your town. As we will be with you every two weeks we want as many friends as possible. To the sick we wish to be that friend in need. The downpour of rain, of course, prevented some who would have liked to come to us, from so doing. Now we wish to tell everyone who wishes to see us to come at 10 o'clock sharp on Saturday, February the 14th. You no doubt will be compelled to wait a short time but rest assured if you are there early you will be waited on. Consultation free, and rest at ease that every word will be held strictly confidential. The following diseases will be treated with results assured:

RHEUMATISM, Gout, Catarrh, Asthma, Sick Headache, Female Complaints, Epileptic Fits, Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles, and Private Diseases of men. We are at the National Hotel on Saturday, the 14th, and every other Saturday thereafter.

over the Presidency, in which less than 25,000 votes separated the leading, and the lowest of the three parties, has given Democrats encouragement to believe that, with the continued activity of the Washington party organization, and the splendid record of the Wilson administration, as well as the State Democratic organization, which now appeals strongly to independent voters, there is a possibility of carrying this city with a candidate who has no sinister alliance. There seems to be every probability that the Democrats will hold the two Congressional districts which they now have; and may capture another, making three out of six, while gains in the Legislature are practically assured."

Montgomery County.—"Though the political situation in this county is rather complicated at present, everything points to a decisive plurality for the Democratic State and Congressional tickets, and probably the entire county ticket, with the possible exception of one Assembly district. The old Johnson-Penrose Republican organization in the county is hopelessly divided, and the Washington party will continue its independent fight against the machine. Activity in the Democratic ranks is everywhere manifest. The recent Democratic dinner at Ardmore, in the strongly Republican Township of Lower Merion, was attended by over 300 men, who wildly cheered addresses by State Chairman Morris, Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer and Hon. William H. Berry. A new association has been formed in the county to bring into active service some of the younger men who have not heretofore taken part."

Cumberland County.—Democrats in this county have, from the very first, been strong for reorganization and are so today. The Wilson administration finds unanimous approval among Democrats and has disarmed all critics. Leading Republicans and Washington party men openly express approval of President Wilson's first year's record. Locally the party has been united and has won at the polls by large majorities. Cumberland is safely Democratic and is only awaiting an opportunity to roll up a big vote for the Democratic ticket in November 1914. The desire here is that Congressman Palmer, Secretary Wilson, Ex-Assemblyman Cressy, Justice Mestrezat and men of their stamp, representing real, progressive Democracy and standing for the reorganization of the party in the State, may compose the ticket."

St. Clairsville
February 10.—On account of A. W. Clark's horses being hurt, the one Crisman mill located on the Sarah Fetter farm was at a stand still, but the sawyer worked the levels for Dr. J. H. Zinn.

MARVELOUS FACTS!

"All the truth in the universe is of no value to us until we let it begin to create facts." There was never a greater truth uttered. This is realistic in Palm City Farms, Fla., where men are utilizing the fertile soil and making the truth of value by tilling the ground to bring forth a wealth of harvest, which the balmy air, jeweled rain-drops and golden sunshine force to maturity during winter months and which crops of vegetables bring best prices at a time when it is impossible to grow them elsewhere in the United States outside of Florida. Glenn W. Barney
Glenn Willis, a son of J. S. and Alice (Karns) Barney, died at his parents' home in Clearville Thursday morning, February 5, 1914, of pneumonia, aged 11 years, one month and 24 days. The funeral took place on Saturday in the Rock Hill Christian Church and was conducted by Rev. W. C. Garland of Cumberland, Md., who based his discourse on the words, "The child is not; and I, whither shall I go?" (Gen. 37: 30). Rev. G. M. Frownfelter and Rev. D. G. Hetrick, who assisted in the service, also made short addresses. The church was filled with sympathizing people. Interment was made in the cemetery at the church. Six of his schoolmates, Raymond Cornell, Earl Frownfelter, Daniel G. Hetrick, Jr., Paul Pennell, Richard Snyder and James Weimer, were the pallbearers. Two bunches of beautiful flowers almost covered the body in the casket, except the face; the one was of large white lilies interlaced with ferns, the other was made up of white roses, white carnations and ferns. Each had a card attached to it with the words "With the heartfelt sympathy of Glen's schoolmates" thereon. The flowers were carried at the front of the casket up the aisle of the church by Odella Mundwiler and Evelyn Mearkle. The deceased leaves to mourn his early departure, besides his parents, one half-brother, three brothers, two sisters, his aged grandfather and a host of friends. Glen was a bright child and will be greatly missed but "When death strikes down the innocent and young, for every fragile form from which he lets the panting spirit free, a hundred virtues rise in shapes of mercy, charity, and love, to walk the world and bless it. Of every tear that sorrowing mortals shed on such green graves, some good is born, some gentler nature comes. In the Destroyer's steps there spring up creations that defy his power; and his dark path becomes a way of light to Heaven." Gideon.

MCCORMICK AND PALMER ENTER

Will Seek Nominations For Governor and Senator.

PRESIDENT GIVES APPROVAL

Candidates Have Fine Records In Politics and Public Service and Both Oppose Old Guard Machine.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 7. Announcement has been made by Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer of his candidacy for United States senator at the coming primaries in Pennsylvania. Ex-Mayor Vance C. McCormick, of Harrisburg, has also announced his candidacy for governor at the primaries. In view of their close political association together, and the conspicuous part both men have played in the reorganization of the Democratic party in the state, their candidacies are expected to form the rallying point for those who are in sympathy with the present state Democratic organization and who are opposed to the return to power in the party of the so-called "old guard" leaders.

The announcements by both candidates were accompanied by declarations that the overshadowing issue of the campaign was the destruction of the Penrose machine and its bi-partisan alliance, and with the support of the Wilson administration and the Wilson brand of progressive government in Pennsylvania.

What Palmer Has Done. Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer was born May 4, 1872, in Luzerne county. He has spent his life in Stroudsburg, Monroe county, where the family for generations has been a prominent factor in community life.

He graduated from the Stroudsburg high school in 1886 with highest honors, prepared for college in the Moravian parochial school at Bethlehem, entered Swarthmore college, from which he was graduated in 1891 with highest honors, and thereafter studied law while acting as a court stenographer, being admitted to the bar in 1893. A partnership with the late Hon. John B. Storm, a former judge and former congressman, continued until the latter's death in 1901.

His political career began with his election to congress in 1908, where he has since served for three terms, representing the Twenty-sixth district, comprising Pike, Monroe, Carbon and Schuylkill counties. Since that time he has been at the right hand of the Democratic leaders—Champ Clark, now speaker, and Oscar W. Underwood—and has been relied upon by them in every contest above probably any other single member on the floor.

Machine Opposed Him.

Palmer's political career has been peculiarly typical of the contest that has revolutionized the political situation throughout the country in the last few years. As a candidate for congress in each of three contests, he has been the target of savage attack by the combined forces of special privilege and machine politics in his district, represented by the Schwab-Mitchler combination.

In state politics almost from his first entrance into public office Congressman Palmer has been in the heat of the battle for reorganization of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania. Against his personal protest he was named national committeeman as a result of that contest, and carried the battle through the meeting of the national committee into the primaries of 1912, carrying off a splendid victory at the state convention of that year.

That convention had the further significance of making Palmer one of the great national figures of the party through the position which he occupied at the Baltimore convention. As the head of an almost solid delegation of seventy-six men, pledged to Wilson, from Pennsylvania—the credit for that fact being justly given to him—he immediately became Wilson floor leader, and to his determined and aggressive action there is justly ascribed the final triumph of the Wilson cause in that historic gathering.

His talent and power were instantly recognized by the presidential candidate, and he gave Palmer a place at his council table as a member of his personal campaign committee. Following the election, after having been seriously considered for attorney general, he was offered and declined the position of secretary of war. With the president's hearty approval, he was made president of the caucus of the Democratic majority in the house, and as such stepped into a place of recognized leadership in that body.

McCormick's Career.

Vance C. McCormick was born in Harrisburg on June 19, 1872, and has lived there ever since. His ancestors were among the early settlers of central Pennsylvania, and his family has always been prominent in the agricultural, industrial and professional life of that part of the state. He was graduated from Yale in 1893, and during his last year there was captain of the Yale football team. In 1907 his alma mater conferred upon him the honorary degree of master of arts. In June, 1912, he was elected a member of the Yale corporation to succeed former President William H. Taft.

After his graduation in 1893 he returned to Harrisburg, and in February

WILL LEAD FIGHT.

Palmer and McCormick Enter Democratic Primary Race.

Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer (upper portrait) has announced himself a candidate for United States senator against Senator Boies Penrose, and Vance C. McCormick, former mayor of Harrisburg (lower portrait), has entered the race for the Democratic nomination for governor. Both have been leaders in the reorganization movement in the Democratic party, and both have thrown down the gauntlet to the "Old Guard."

1900, he was elected a member of the common council, where he fought for the first improvement loan authorized by councils and approved by the people. Before his term in common council expired he was elected mayor for a term of three years.

His Work as Mayor.

During his administration Harrisburg underwent a complete physical metamorphosis. Paved streets took the place of dirt roads, a splendid park system was planned and far advanced toward completion, modern sewers took the place of open ditches and the people were supplied with an abundance of pure filtered water, instead of the muddy rawness drawn from a polluted river. Under his administration the volunteer fire department was reformed and improved, and the police department was taken entirely out of politics and brought to a state of discipline and efficiency never before approached in Harrisburg. Gambling houses, speakeasies and disorderly houses were closed up and their proprietors sent to prison on voluntary exile.

He has always been actively interested in and a generous contributor to every charitable, philanthropic and educational enterprise in Harrisburg, and his benefactions have extended far beyond the limits of his own city and county.

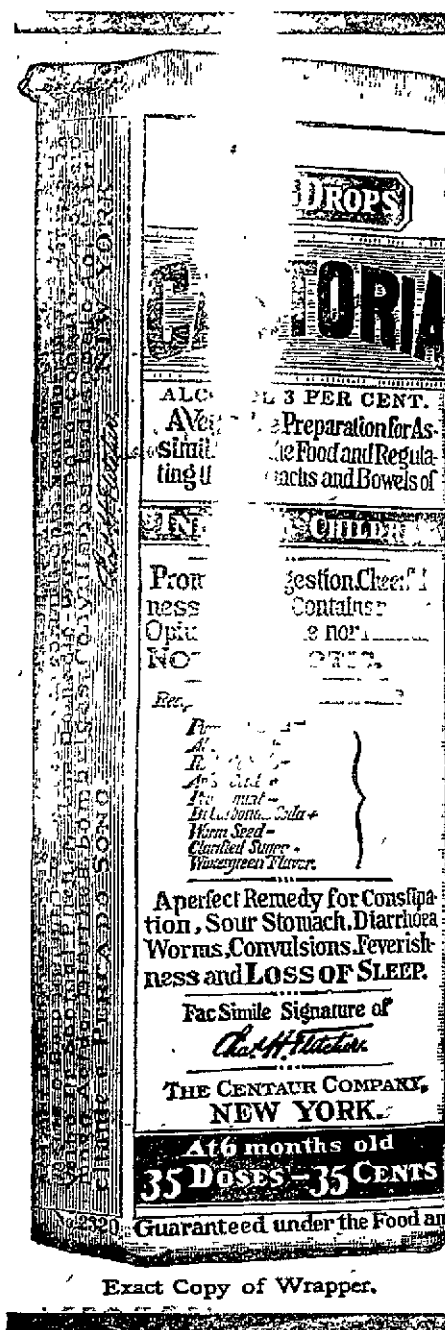

Has Broad Interests.

A farmer as well as a banker and newspaper publisher he has been a leader in every enterprise for the improvement of agricultural methods and the breeds of live stock. For a number of years he has been a trustee of Pennsylvania State College and has taken a deep interest in the institution.

He was one of the original movers for good roads in Pennsylvania and has enthusiastically supported every proper measure for the betterment of the roads of the state.

The splendid work that Mr. McCormick has done during the last three years for the reorganization and purification of a Democratic state committee, resulting in the forced retirement of all the old bi-partisan traders, putting the direction of party affairs in the hands of clean, unselfish, progressive Democrats, making the organization immediately responsible to the will of the voters and helping to bring about the nomination and election of Woodrow Wilson as president of the United States, is a matter of recent history and is familiar to every man in the state.

Democrats who wish to vote at the primaries must be registered and polled. The last opportunity in townships and boroughs is March 29 in third class cities.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Of Philadelphia Pledges its Support to State Organization.

Philadelphia, February 4.—Active work on the part of the anti-Donnelly-Ryan Democrats of Philadelphia toward cleaning up the local Democratic organization and placing it in accord with the progressive State leadership of the party was indicated tonight when the Campaign Committee of the Democratic Club met and organized for the spring contest. This committee consists of two prominent and active men from each ward in the city and the reports which they brought indicated a rising Democratic sentiment and a strong demand on the part of Democrats for a city organization devoted to the same ends as the State organization.

The Democratic Club is one of the oldest and largest organizations of its kind in the State, with a membership approaching 1,000, and in recent months has earnestly assisted the reorganization cause within the Democratic party.

At tonight's meeting there was little talk of candidates for State offices, but definite plans were laid for extending the organization into every precinct and for assisting in the nomination of the best of those candidates who present themselves at the primaries. It was quite clear that the suggestion of the candidacy of City Solicitor Michael J. Ryan has aroused little enthusiasm, in spite of his being a Philadelphian, chiefly because of the fact becoming more and more evident that he is being supported by the "old guard" and its allies in the hope of wrecking the present State organization. His failure to repudiate the attack of his campaign manager upon the State organization has cost him many friends in this city who would have been glad to see him come out squarely in opposition to the reactionary elements of the Democratic party.

Wards clubs throughout the city are answering his announcement by pledging their loyalty to the State organization and their support to candidates who stand on that platform. Three ward clubs within the week have taken this action.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson VII.—First Quarter, For Feb. 15, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke xi, 37-54. Memory Verse, 42—Golden Text, Gal. vi, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

When we remember that our blessed Lord knew all men and knew what was in man and every thought of man's heart (John ii, 24, 25; Ezek. xi, 5) we wonder how He in His purity and righteousness could live among men as He did and not be utterly discouraged. But He came to save sinners, knowing that every imagination of the thoughts of man's heart is only evil continually and that every man at his best state is altogether vanity and that all man's righteousness is only filthy rags (Gen. vi, 5; Ps. xxxix).

As to these Pharisees, if we note what He says of them in Matt. xxiii as well as in our lesson we wonder that He could think of entering one of their homes. If He was only a man, however good, He could not tolerate them, but being God in human form, God manifest in the flesh, He was not willing that even such should perish and would save them if they would let Him. But they, being ignorant of God's righteousness and going about to establish their own righteousness, would not submit themselves unto the righteousness of God (Rom. x, 3). They rejected the counsel of God against themselves and derided Him.

Yet when they invited Him into their homes He went, as in our lesson and in Luke vii, 36, but he was always "the faithful witness" (Rev. iii, 14), testifying to the love of God and the sinfulness of man. The word "Pharisee" means a separated one, but their separation was not from sin unto God, but from all who did not think as they did and were to them common and unclean, as when one of them said, "God, I thank thee that I am not as other men * * * or even as this publican" (Luke xviii, 11).

We may become well acquainted with them by considering our Lord's estimate of them in the "woes" of our lesson and Matt. xxiii and Isa. v. They knew not the love of God, but they did love the praise of men. Their religion was wholly outward, seeking only human approval, utterly regardless of what God thought of them or knew them to be (Matt. xxiii, 5, 28). Like their ancestors, they regarded not the work of the Lord, neither considered the operation of His hands. They cast away the law of the Lord of hosts and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel (Isa. vi, 12, 24).

They honored God with their lips, but their hearts were far from Him, and they made His word of none effect by their traditions (Mark vii, 6, 13; Isa. xxix, 13; Ezek. xxxiii, 31). Their religion was from Cain, who was the human founder of all false religion and who was evidently in the mind of our Lord in the great woe chapter when He spoke of the blood of righteous Abel (Matt. xxiii, 35).

The greatest hindrance to the gospel is not the worldly world, which lieth in the wicked one (1 John v, 19), but the religious people whose religion is all outward, who know not what is to worship God in spirit and in truth, and who think more of what others think of them than of the approval of the Lord Jesus, and who are more sensitive to a reproach against themselves than to a reproach against the name of the Lord. These are the wicked who plot against the just, who watcheth the righteous and seeketh to slay him (Ps. xxxvii, 12, 32), even as these men lay in wait for our Lord, seeking to catch something out of His mouth that they might accuse Him.

The self righteousness of such people could not take them into the kingdom of heaven (Matt. v, 20), but would doom them to the outer darkness, where there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth (Matt. viii, 12). Never did our Lord turn away or say a severe word to a truly penitent sinner or one honestly seeking the truth, but to those who professed to be what they were not and yet were righteous in their own estimation. He was severe. Yet even such, who thought they had need of nothing, He counseled to buy of Him gold tried in the fire and white raiment and eye salve to cause them to see (Rev. iii, 17, 18).

God requires an absolutely perfect righteousness, such as was found only in Jesus Christ, the Lamb of God, without blemish and without spot, with whom the Father was always well pleased, and anything less than this will not suffice. We can never attain to such righteousness by our own efforts, but how glorious is the truth in II Cor. v, 21, "He has made Him who knew nothing of sin to be sin for us, in order that in Him we may become the righteousness of God," or as in I Cor. i, 30, "He has become for us a wisdom which is from God, consisting of righteousness and sanctification and deliverance" (Weymouth's translation).

When once our eyes are opened to see His perfect righteousness and to receive Him, then all seems as nothing compared with His excellency, and we glory only in Him (Phil. iii, 8-10). While we continue in the blindness and darkness of our own pride and self will we can see no beauty in Him, being wholly occupied with ourselves and our own doings, and will consequently reject the counsel of God against ourselves (Luke vii, 30).

Electric Light Without Cost

You can now have electricity in your home, regardless of where you live. You can store it as you do water in a supply tank.

The Sandow Farm and Suburban Lighting Co., of Detroit are going to establish a permanent branch office and salesroom in Bedford.

This means that the Country residence or Farm House, Suburban Bungalow or Cottage can now be equipped with its own small private plant furnishing from 10 to 500 lights on the storage battery system at practically no cost after the installation.

This means all the conveniences of a modern city home, cheaper than the old dangerous smoky coal oil lamp. The immense output of these plants within the past year enables us to offer them at a price that is within the reach of all and a subsequent saving of lighting expense which will in a very short time cover the cost of installation and thereafter be a constant source of economy and comfort.

This is not a luxury but a necessity and you owe it to your family as well as yourself to have your home lighted with the best light obtainable

ELECTRICITY

We also handle the Sandow general purpose Electric light and power plants without storage batteries, admirably adapted for the use of small towns and villages. For full information, specifications, catalogues, etc., address

Change Democratic Rules

The sub-committee of the Democratic State Committee, appointed at the last meeting to revise the party rules so as to conform to the new election law, met at State headquarters, Harrisburg, last week; but after going over the old rules and the new law and agreeing as to wherein they conflict and should be rearranged a sub-committee was appointed to whip them into shape for presentation to a meeting of the State Committee, to be held in Harrisburg this month. Those present were Arthur McKean, Beaver; William T. Creasy, Columbia; Bruce F. Sterling, Fayette. Meeting with the committee were State Chairman Morris, United States District Attorney, E. Lowry Humes, who, as a Democratic floor leader during the last legislative session, aided in framing the election bills; Vance C. McCormick, Harrisburg, and David Wallerstein, Philadelphia. Rough drafts were made changing the rules so as to provide for the election of two committeemen in each Senatorial district, except where the district is formed of more than one county, when each county is to have one committeeman; fixing the time for organizing the State Committee in June instead of July; and abolishing the rule providing for State conventions.

Another change in the old rules not fixed by law, however, is the creation of 11 divisions for political purposes. This would make 11 division chairmen to form the executive committee.

Messrs. McKean, Sterling and Humes will meet in Pittsburgh shortly and make a finished set of rules, to be presented to the Executive Committee, which in turn will present them to a meeting of the State Committee to be held in Harrisburg the last week in February. A plan to fill committee vacancies will also be devised then.
